ATLANTA (CBS46) - When visiting the city of Atlanta, one of the questions visitors often ask is "what are the best restaurants?"

So often, people living in other states see the various types of restaurants Atlanta has to offer from the many different reality tv shows that can be viewed any day of the week.

And with the number of celebrities living in the city, there are several restaurants here that the average person wouldn't know was owned by an actor, singer, or celebrity chef.

Here are four celebrity owned restaurants in the city:

Chicken and Beer

The only way you would be able to enjoy the cuisine of rapper Ludacris' Chicken and Beer Restaurant is if you have flown in or out of Hartsfield- Jackson Atlanta International Airport.

The menu offers southern cuisine including fried chicken, shrimp and grits, and fried catfish.
